Each configuration is available in a range of aesthetic options, with a Shaker or Slab door style and 10 species/finish combinations, including Dark Cherry, Cinnamon Cherry, Natural Maple, Silver Oak, Satin White, and Satin Black.

"With its breadth of choices, including the modern Slab door and the more transitional Shaker door, Alki is one of our most versatile cabinetry collections," says Peter Ollestad, national sales manager for Strasser Woodenworks. "Depending on the faucets and hardware chosen, Alki is ideally suited to complement nearly any bathroom décor."

Each Alki vanity measures 34½ inches tall and comes in 18- or 21-inch depths. A 70-inch-tall linen tower also is available, along with coordinating medicine cabinets, mirrors, and vanity tops.

Strasser Woodenworks manufactures all of its cabinetry with keen attention to quality and detail, including solid wood doors and drawers with dovetail construction and solid-wood legs. Each piece is made in the USA and built to order, a detail that ensures consistency in raw materials and craftsmanship. Finishes are hand-rubbed, which allows the wood-grain to show through even on the darkest finishes. All wood species are sourced from the US or Canada.
